

BIG RAILROAD HOLDS STATE

Governor Dawson Of West Virginia, Asks
Congress To Probe The Conditions.

CONTROLS THE SOFT COAL OUTPUT

Executive Declares Interests Of State Suffer By Their Grasp Upon The Public Utilities At Present.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Declaring that West Virginia is in the grasp of a railroad and coal trust, and that the entire state is at the mercy of this trust, Gov. Dawson has written a letter appealing to the senate for help. The letter was read by Mr. Tillman.

Gov. Dawson asserts that the trust controls the production of bituminous coal in the commonwealth, and that the interests of those who will help the railroads are promoted, to the harm of other producers of coal not situated to such advantage to the roads. Senators declared an investigation must be undertaken, if the House does not take up the matter.

Mr. Dawson's letter is as follows:

Pennsylvania Controls.

"It may be that the Pennsylvania Railroad company does not legally own a controlling part of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company or the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway company or the Norfolk & Western Railway company. I have no doubt, however, that an investigation will show that the Pennsylvania Railroad company practically controls these three great trunk lines which traverse West Virginia, and which are the only means whereby the products of this state, including coal, can be shipped either to the lakes in the West or other markets in the East. Hence, it is a fact that West Virginia is today in the grasp of a railway trust which practically says what part of the state shall be developed and what shall not be developed, how much coal we shipped out of the state, to what points or ports it shall be shipped and when it shall be shipped.

Looks to Its Interest.

"Of course, it makes its own rates and we are helpless. The Pennsylvania Railroad is very largely interested in the production or shipment of bituminous coal; it will naturally look after its own interest and the interest of the people along its lines in Pennsylvania and elsewhere first of all, and, therefore, the interests of West Virginia are subordinated to the interests of those others, and our railroads upon which we are dependent are controlled by an alien corporation, practically in competition with us."

The governor closed by requesting an official investigation into the state of affairs, and Mr. Tillman said that he would move for such an investigation but for the fact that the House was moving in that direction. He said that as the letter came from the Republican governor of the state it was of transcendent importance, and he could not see how an investigation could be refused, and unless the House should move in the matter he would ask the Senate to order an inquiry.

Mr. Tillman said there was a state law affording an adequate remedy by mandamus for such conditions as those represented, but that shippers hesitated to employ it. He suggested that the governor's letter be referred to the committee on interstate commerce, and it was so referred.

TWO NEGROES HANG ON SAME SCAFFOLD

Double Execution at Griffin, Georgia, Tomorrow—Both Convicts Are Murderers

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Griffin, Ga., Feb. 9.—Arrangements have been completed for a double hanging to take place here tomorrow, the first legal execution in this county in nearly forty years. The condemned men are Ralph Miller and Lem Greer, both negroes. Miller killed his uncle, Sam Jones, near Orchard Hill, last summer, while Greer's crime was the murder of another negro, Caesar Gresham, following a quarrel.

MAGNETIC SURVEY OF NORTH PACIFIC

Charts of Seas That Have Never Been Correct Are To Be Revised at Much Expense.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 9.—Scientists are deeply interested in the expedition about to leave here, under the direction of the Carnegie Institution, to make a magnetic survey of the north Pacific ocean. The cruise, which is to be made in a comparatively small sailing vessel, will include a complete circuit of that great body of water, and a journey of 20,000 miles will have been made when the ship returns to the United States. From San Diego, the vessel is to sail along the west coast of South America to Fanning Island; thence to the Samoan, Fiji and Marshall islands, Guam and in the neighborhood of the Philippines. From there she will go into Chinese and Japanese waters, touching at Yokohama and Tokio. Continuing her journey north, she will go along the coast of Siberia, and stop at the Aleutian islands, after which Alaskan waters will be entered, a visit being made to Sitka. The primary purpose of the cruise is to make a thorough magnetic survey of the north Pacific. While the state of existing knowledge of the distribution of the earth's magnetic forces over oceanic areas, owing to the paucity of precise data, is in general exceedingly satisfactory, this is especially true of the Pacific ocean, rapidly developing in great commercial importance. Except for data from occasional expeditions, and such as were acquired in wooden vessels a long time ago, the present magnetic charts used by the navigator over this region depend largely upon the observations on islands and along the coasts. Such land observations, however, are rarely representative of the true values, because of prevalent local disturbances. While it is not anticipated that any marked irregularities in the distribution of the earth's magnetism will manifest themselves over the deep waters of the Pacific, it may be confidently expected that in the neighborhood of the islands and along the coasts, distortions and irregularities will reveal themselves.

FORT SILL, OKLAHOMA, MAY BECOME BIG ARMY MANEUVERING GROUND

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—The bill now before congress to make the government reservation at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, the great maneuvering ground for the United States army has received the endorsement of many prominent army men and there is every reason to believe that it will meet with favorable action. It is said that the government can get control at a reasonable price of a tract 10 by 30 miles in dimensions, the pick of perhaps of any in the whole country. In favor of the project it is pointed out that the climate in that locality is most favorable and that the location is exceedingly convenient, particularly as regards the army posts of the southwest.

Rear Admiral W. S. Soley, U. S. N., retired, has been mustered in as a member of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's 74th, of the Army and Navy union.

Public Printer Stillings has appointed Dr. William J. Manning of Boston to be medical director of the government printing office. The position is a new one.

ARION MASQUERADE BALL AT MIDNIGHT

Event Opens with Parade of Automobile Floats and Immense Spectacular Ballet.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Feb. 9.—All is in readiness for the Arion masquerade ball to begin in Madison Square Garden at midnight tonight. Judging from the large number of boxes and tickets that have been sold, the ball committee expects the largest attendance of any ball in the Arion's history. The affair undoubtedly will eclipse all of its predecessors from a scenic standpoint, at least. The chief feature is to be a parade of automobile floats. Twelve handsomely decorated motor cars, each representing a month, will be in the line and on each will be a group of the prettiest girls to be found in New York, wearing costumes typical of the months they represent. The dancing will, as usual, be preceded by a spectacular ballet.

SUFFRAGISTS TALK MUNICIPAL REFORM

Men and Women Noted in Fight Against City Corruption Speak
Before Convention.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 9.—The session this evening of the national woman's suffrage convention promises to be of unusual public interest. "Municipal Government" will be discussed, and men and women prominent along the lines of municipal reforms will be heard. Among the scheduled speakers are Rudolph Blankenburg of Philadelphia, who was instrumental in the overthrow of the ring at the last election in his city; Dudley Foxlike of Indiana, ex-civil service commissioner; Frederick Howe, an Ohio state senator, and Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago. The sessions today were devoted almost entirely to business of a routine nature. The forenoon was taken up with reports from the state presidents, the reports presented during the past year by the state associations of Missouri, Michigan, Massachusetts, Maine, Louisiana, Kentucky and Kansas.

Willemstad, Feb. 9.—A traveler who arrived today from Venezuela said: "President Castro is busy engaged in enlisting throughout the republic and in other ways preparing for war. Generals in each state have been commissioned and orders have been given to call recruits to defend the colors." Information from best sources indicates the people do not support Castro. On all sides are heard expressions of desire to revolt and overthrow the President's government as soon as a French blockade is declared.

At the meeting of the Merchants' association of Fond du Lac the old society disbanded and a new society known as the Business Men's Protective association was organized.

FINAL PASSING OF SING SING PRISON

Oldest and Most Widely Known Penitentiary in Country To Be Abandoned at Last.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Feb. 9.—The abandonment of the state prison at Sing Sing, which has been under discussion for years, now appears a certainty in view of the recommendation in the report just made to the governor by the state prison improvement commission. The prison, which has been in existence for nearly a century, is by far the best known in the western world. Within its walls many men of note have suffered for their crimes. Many murderers have died there—those of early days on the scaffold, the latter ones in the dreaded electric chair. Its death house, a separate group of tiny steel cells, has held men who made desperate legal fights for life. Some of them were successful, among them Roland B. Molineux, Albert T. Patrick, who is making the same fight for life that Molineux made and many believe that its result will be equally successful. Today there are nearly 1500 in mates in the big prison. Among them are fraudsters, corrupt politicians, dishonest lawyers, murderers, and thieves, big and little.

Patrick Keeping Up Fight.

Whether Albert T. Patrick, under sentence of death for the alleged murder of William F. Rice, the Texas millionaire, is to have a new trial will probably be known within a day or two. The motion for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, is returnable today. The principal ground urged on the motion is substantially that new evidence has been obtained to show that Mr. Rice did not die of chloroform poisoning but instead died a natural death and that Jones, the valet, since his release here, has made many statements to persons in Texas, all to the effect that he never killed Rice. "One of these statements, all of which appear as sworn affidavits, is that Jones said he would return to New York and plead guilty to a charge of perjury if he was promised only a light sentence. If a new trial is granted many eminent medical men have volunteered to appear and give expert testimony in Patrick's behalf.

COAL MINES TO BE SHUT DOWN

Illinois Operators Gather In Chicago To Discuss Plans For The Campaign.

THE PUMPS WILL BE KEPT MOVING

No Effort Is To Be Made To Take Out Coal—Former Experiences Are To Be Followed As To Operating The Mines.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Feb. 9.—At a meeting of the Illinois Coal Operators' association held today it was decided by unanimous vote to refuse the demands made by the United Mine Workers of America. All the preparations for general strike of bituminous miners throughout the state are to be made today at a meeting of the Illinois Coal Operators' association. The convention of mine owners from all over the state have taken up the problem that they believe is to confront them on April 1.

In Illinois there are 55,000 soft coal miners who will be involved in case of a general walkout after a wage scale disagreement. Millions of tons of coal are on hand for the emergency, but the miners admit that the situation is such that industrial trouble will follow within a few months if the strike is ordered.

Strike Sure to Come.

Commissioner Herman J. Jusil reached Chicago yesterday. He is prepared to enter into the work of the operators, but in common with the rest of them he said that no advance plans had been made for the convention. The operators are, however, solid in the belief that trouble will not be averted unless President John Mitchell of the miners' union is found to have been playing a game of politics that can be anticipated before the present agreement expires.

The operators are said to have given favorable consideration to a plan pursued in smaller troubles with their employees, when the general walkout is ordered. The plan, which seems to meet with general favor is to close down the mines except the pumps.

SENATE TAKES THE RATE BILL UP NEXT

It is Probable That It Will Be Passed
in Special Committee

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today began the consideration of the Hepburn rate bill. It is generally conceded that the bill, with only a few modifications, will have the majority report when the committee votes on it next Friday. Acting under instruction, the house committee today began an investigation in that it may report whether or not congress has the power to provide for federal control of insurance. In the senate Senator Patterson moved to strike out of the deficiency appropriation bill the provision advocating an eight-hour law in the canal zone.

The house committee on naval affairs today adopted a resolution appointing a subcommittee to visit the naval academy at once and report up on the discipline and management of the academy.

The house passed the bill revising the Philippine tariff by increasing the duty on European-made cotton goods and decreasing the tariff on shoes. In the senate Senator Patterson's amendment was defeated with the urgent deficiency bill and agreed to adjourn until Monday.

Martin Willis of St. Louis has been elected president of the Builders' Supply association at a meeting in Philadelphia.

James A. Wright, formerly of the International Mercantile Marine company, is seriously ill in New York with pneumonia.

Water will be kept in operation to prevent flooding and ruin of the mines by water.

Mines Will Shut Down.

The proposed method is a novel one in cases of extensive strikes and will be a departure from the plan of dealing with big strikes in the great mining districts of the United States on previous occasions. It is said no effort will be made to operate the mines for the production of coal. This will be contrary to the procedure in the case of the great anthracite strike which was ended by the good offices of President Roosevelt. In that strike efforts were made to keep the mines going and vast sums were expended in procuring and guarding non-union miners who were put at work.

The operators in the bituminous district have decided after much deliberation that nothing is to be gained by following the example of the anthracite coal operators and will bend their energies to adding to the huge supply of soft coal already mined in order to have as large supply as possible on hand April 1, when, from present prospects, the soft coal mines all will be shut down.

Hold Demands Unreasonable.

The bituminous operators take the view that the safer and more effective plan to pursue will be to suspend the production of coal until the public, aroused by the deprivation of fuel and the menace to industrial operations throughout the soft coal district, takes a hand and forces a settlement. The operators express confidence in their ability to convince the public that the demands of the men are unreasonable and believe that the wage workers will feel the rebuke of public sentiment in a telling way.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FRANKENBURGER

Late Member of the University Faculty Is Laid at Rest on Thursday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—The funeral of the late Professor D. B. Frankenburg was held yesterday afternoon at the Unitarian church. The place was filled to overflowing with members of the university faculty, students and townspeople, who gathered to pay their last tribute to a member of the university faculty, who was one of the most beloved and sincerely admired members of the university and Capital City community. The services were presided over by Rev. F. A. Gilmore, minister of the church and a close friend of the deceased. Professor Frederick J. Turner, a former student of Professor Frankenburg and for years an intimate companion with him in the faculty, made a brief address, feelingly characterizing the dead professor and paying tribute to his great work for the university and the state. Scripture readings and favorite passages of the deceased, from Emerson and other writers, were offered by Mr. Gilmore and Rolfe W. Lyman, assistant professor of rhetoric and oratory, read a poem which was read by Professor Frankenburg at the funeral of the late Professor William F. Allen. The Monona Ladies' quartette sang. The honorary pallbearers were chosen from the Town and Gown society, of which the deceased was a charter member, being Colonel William F. Vilas, Justice J. B. Winslow, President Van Hise, Dean E. A. Birge, Professors M. S. Slaughter, Joseph Jastrow, C. S. Slichter, F. J. Turner, Charles Turner, Charles Forster Smith and Burr W. Jones. The active bearers were Max Leeb, Emil Olbrich, Victor R. Griggs, J. L. Baker, H. L. Glase and L. A. Littlequist.

The faculty of the university, members of the various literary societies and other organizations attended and as many other townspeople and students as could gain entrance were present. The remains were taken to Forest Hill cemetery for interment. The casket was completely covered with roses, violets and other flowers, and banks of floral offerings surrounded the pulpit platform of the church.

TOBACCO MEN ON PHILIPPINE BILL

CRITICISE CONGRESSMAN COOPER'S VOTE ON MEASURE.

ASK ITS DEFEAT BY SENATE

State Meeting at Madison Passes a Drastic Resolution Yesterday.

[Special to the Gazette.] Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—Absolute unanimity prevailed in the state convention of the tobacco growers and dealers of Wisconsin in the adoption of resolutions protesting against the reduction of the tariff on Philippine tobacco labor grown tobacco, as provided in the bill which recently passed the house of representatives and is now pending in the senate.

Many From Here While a large number of delegates to the convention came from the first Wisconsin congressional district, the vote of which in congress was cast by Representative Cooper in favor of the objectionable bill, there was not a word of protest against the adoption of the declaration against the measure which he favored.

Not in Favor Another significant fact was that John M. Nelson of Madison, who has recently announced his candidacy for the seat of Congressman H. C. Adams of the second district, was present during the convention and sought to make capital with the substantial men here, was not able to muster a single voice against the resolutions. Nelson has announced himself as a La Follette candidate and seeks to displace Adams because the latter went in with Congressman Babcock in the "insurgent" fight against the opening of the American market to Malay tobacco.

Rebukes Cooper The action of the convention is considered here as a rebuke to Congressman Cooper and would be endorsement of Congressman Adams and the others who in or out of congress are in favor of giving to the farmers and particularly to the growers of tobacco and sugar beet the protection of which the manufacturing combinations and trusts have always had the advantage.

The Resolution The resolution is as follows: "Resolved, by the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers' association, representing an industry that brings more than $5,000,000 annually to the state, that we record our protest against the Philippine tariff bill now before congress in its present form and earnestly request Senators Spooner and La Follette to oppose that measure. As American citizens we are unalterably opposed to placing the labor of the United States in competition with that of the Malay race."

Notify Senate The secretary of the association was instructed to notify the senators of this action. The committee on resolutions consisted of F. C. Coon, Edgerton, Fred Bemis, Footville, and E. M. Calkins, Janesville.

The Officers The convention re-elected all its old officers, as follows: President—Captain John M. Estes, Stoughton. Secretary—A. L. Fisher, Janesville. Treasurer—F. W. Coon, Edgerton. Alderman—Vroman made the address of welcome. President Estes delivered his annual remarks and speeches relating to tobacco industry were presented by E. M. Calkins, L. B. Carle, Ben Brown and Professor E. P. Sandsten.

The Prizes The cash prizes for exhibits of samples of cigar leaf, $25, $15 and $10, respectively, were awarded as follows: Exhibits from north and west of the Wisconsin river—first prize, W. W. Powell, Victory; second, J. C. Gaid, Soldiers Grove; third, R. T. Benton, Virgona. Exhibits from south and east of the Wisconsin river—first, K. H. Keisburg, Cottage Grove; second, J. O. Ellickson, Cambridge; third, L. O. Fluggin, Stoughton.

HOUSEHOLD

How to Relax and Rest. (Written for the Weekly Gazette.) I am glad to get inquiries along this line from busy young housewives. It is getting to be a serious problem to see so many nervous breakdowns among our young mothers. One cause is the servant problem. So few housewives can get either a responsible nurse or cook, hence it all falls upon the busy mother. Where you make the greatest mistake is in trying to do too much. You will have to leave much undone and try to be satisfied and not worry over it. Imagine the good manager who puts on her thinking-cap and studies to gain time for relaxation and rest. One has to look ahead and plan if they keep home successfully. The best manager I ever saw did all her own work except the washing and ironing, and she had four children and her husband, making six in the family. It was a pleasure to see her work. She did it with such facility and ease and it seemed to be a pleasure to her. She had every device for saving labor. She protected and preserved her charms and graces. She wore dusting caps, put on old loose gloves when she swept or dusted. She surrounded herself with every convenience thought of. She used mops in dish-washing, had stacks of nice tea towels, she had a china soap dish, and said she never washed dishes without putting borax in the water to soften it and to clean quicker. She also used borax in cleansing her granite vessels or porcelain pieces. She studied to learn. S. J. HENTON.

FRED BALCH IS TO GO TO CALIFORNIA

Talked in Rational Manner to Physicians, and Examination Was Postponed.

Strange actions on the part of Fred Balch, who has been living alone at the corner of Fourth avenue and Cornelia street, led neighbors to fear that he is afflicted with some form of mental derangement and at their urgent request County Judge J. W. Sale appointed Drs. W. H. Judd and S. B. Buckmaster to make an inquiry and examination. Mr. Balch's parents recently went to Los Angeles, Cal., his father having relinquished his position in the Rock County bank, and his wife is in Kenosha. Of late he is said to have repeatedly urged women in the neighborhood to accompany him to dances and similar entertainments. Mr. Balch talked in a rational manner when the examination was commenced today and when he made a request that he be permitted to depart for Kenosha tonight and from thence for California, it was decided not to press the matter further at this time.

CLEAR NIGHT FOR RARE PHENOMENON

Eclipse of the Moon Was Well Worth Watching—World Swathed in Dull Copper Light.

As if in preparation for the play of weird, uncanny lights that were to emanate from the moon, the clouds spread a thin, white reflector of snow over all the ground and buildings and unsightly places during the early evening. Then the storm cleared and passed and before eleven o'clock the stars came out and all the world seemed to be suffused in pale white light. Suddenly, about 11:35 o'clock, the clear brilliance began to be tinged with something sombre and mysterious and the wayfarer who had taken heed of approaching events involuntarily gazed at the sky and saw the brown veil creeping like some horrible, evil over the face of the lunar orb. More and more the very air seemed to be freighted with the oppressive, dull-copper hue, until at 12:25 the eclipse was complete. Afterwards, and very slowly, the planet began to clear itself from its smothering travail and affliction and just before five o'clock, way off in the heavens, it was shining serenely again. The watchers who followed again, of its course were well rewarded. The phenomenon, has seldom been seen to better advantage hereabouts.

LOCAL TOBACCO MEN ARE MUCH AROUSED

Question of the Philippine Tariff Will Be Discussed on Saturday Evening.

While the action of tobacco men at their meeting in Madison on Thursday passed resolutions condemning the Philippine bill and urged the two Wisconsin Senators to use their vote and powers against its passage in the upper house of congress, no delegates were sent to Washington to appear before the Senate committee to fight the bill. This was due to the fact that the association, as an association, did not feel able financially to stand the expense of such a trip and they did not feel they could ask any delegates to go without paying the expenses. Mr. A. L. Fisher, vice-president of the state association, said this morning: "I consider this question as vitally interesting to the life of the tobacco industry of Wisconsin. I believe that the passage of this measure by the senate will mean the death of the Wisconsin industry. The conditions that exist in the Philippines are not the same that exist in Cuba and the Cuban arguments can not be used in this connection." In order that the matter may be especially discussed, a meeting of the Janesville tobacco merchants has been called for Saturday evening at eight o'clock in Greene's warehouse, when this and other matters will be discussed. The local organization is alive to the interests of the industry and it is probable that two delegates will be selected to go to Washington and urge the defeat of the pending legislation before the Senate committee. The local conditions in the tobacco business are better than they have been for years and the only present need of the warehouse people is the lack of sufficient help to handle the present crop. A hundred to a hundred and fifty more girls could find ready employment in the different warehouses in the city. This has been a bumper year from the growers' standpoint and new impetus has been given the industry.

BUSINESS MAN MAKES REPLY TO A FIREMAN

Has Suggestion to Make Regarding the Location of the Fire Stations.

Messrs. Editors: In reply to fireman, I am heartily in favor of part of his proposition. The east side hose company should be up on East Milwaukee street. The west side should be up near the Grand hotel. This would insure even quicker attendance to fires than we now have. My idea is this: Build a fire station on East Milwaukee street for No. 2, leave police headquarters where it is. Turn over the engine house on North Main street to the fire patrol, with privilege of keeping the police patrol horse and wagon there. The fire patrol has done splendid work for many years. The members are among our heaviest taxpayers, and there is not a manufacturer or business man in the city but feels that knowing there will be fifteen or twenty good men to take charge if there is a fire in his place of business. If the city gave them the house for headquarters, it would be a cheap investment for us all. Business men, let us show our appreciation by voting to give the fire police a good home for their company. I am not a fireman and never have been, but am a business man of the city and want to feel that I have the protection of the old Sack company.

HUNDRED PRESENT ON LADIES' NIGHT

Fourth Meeting of Moonlight Club—Janesville and Beloit Men Participate in Discussion.

[Special to the Gazette.] Afton, Feb. 9.—If any further demonstration was needed to attest to the popularity of the Moonlight club, it was certainly evidenced at Brinkman's hall Tuesday evening, when members and guests to the number of one hundred, assembled for the fourth meeting of the present series. As this was ladies' night for Afton, the fair sex was very much in evidence and took a lively interest in the meeting. After partaking of a bountiful supper served by Mrs. Nellie McGree, the regular program for the evening was taken up and presented in its entirety, all the speakers being present to respond when called upon. "The Race Problem" was the subject matter selected for discussion and in his opening remarks, the leader, David Thorne, briefly outlined the characteristics of the negro and paved the way for the presentation of the first paper, "The Negro As a Slave," by John F. Atkinson, of La Prairie. Mr. Atkinson graphically told the story of slavery and was followed by E. D. Billings of Turtle, who read a carefully prepared paper on "The Negro As a Freed Man." Following these speakers came a series of talks on "The Future of the Negro," participated in by Supt. H. C. Buell, of Janesville, Attorney C. D. Rosa, of Beloit, Rev. C. J. Eddy, of Rockton, Ill., E. L. Ramsey, of Beloit, J. B. Humphrey, of Janesville, and others. The program was interspersed with music, the numbers being a solo by R. K. Overton with piano accompaniment by Miss Ida Sweet, of Shopiere, and a couple of popular melodies by a trio comprising Miss Sweet and Messrs. R. K. Overton and J. B. Humphrey, with Mrs. U. G. Waite presiding at the piano. The final meeting of the present series will be held at Shopiere, Tuesday evening, March 6, with Charles Porter of Turtle as leader. Topics of the Times" will be considered at this closing meeting, three questions being up for presentation and discussion: 1—"Are Great Private Fortunes a Menace to Our Liberties?" C. R. Van Gilder, La Prairie, and G. S. Otis of Rockton; 2—"Are the Opportunities for Young Men As Good Now As They Were Forty Years Ago?" Rev. Samuel Lugg, of Shopiere and J. B. Humphrey of Janesville; 3—"What is the Most Important Invention of Modern Times?" Daniel Spicer of Tiffany and W. J. Miller of Afton.

Large Farewell Party. One of the largest social gatherings of the winter was that held at Brinkman's hall last Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brinkman and family, prior to their departure for their new home at Platteville. Not only was Afton and vicinity well represented, but delegations from the surrounding cities and towns were present, including Janesville, Beloit, Shopiere and Hanover. Such representative gathering was impressive, in that it spoke more eloquently than words of the high esteem in which Mr. Brinkman and family are held by those with whom they have associated these many years.

More substantial evidence of this regard was given during the evening however, when J. B. Humphrey, in a happy speech presented to Mr. and Mrs. Brinkman in behalf of those who, in a beautiful dining room table, a box of cigars, and to Mrs. Brinkman, a handsome table cloth. In the course of the evening a splendid supper was served, after which games were indulged in by the younger element present, while older heads enjoyed social converse and swapped ideas on matters of mutual interest.

Afton News in Brief. Wm. Brinkman, after a quarter of a century of active business here, has sold his creamery to Frank D. Corryell and has moved to Platteville, Wis., where he is interested in the mines and has accepted a position with one of the important companies there. Mr. Corryell expects to assume control of the creamery in about a month, until which time it will be run by Dick Brinkman who has been associated with his brother in the operation of the creamery for many years.

The Ladies Aid society will meet to sew for Mrs. E. Honeysett at her home next Wednesday at ten o'clock in the forenoon. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Alvina Antisdel is very ill with heart trouble. Miss Evelyn Miller and Will Skelly, our pneumonia patients, are on the road to recovery.

Miss Philip Gundel of Hanover, visiting friends here the first of the week, John Daniels left for Wood county Tuesday night where he expects to purchase a farm.

Don't forget the dance next Tuesday night, Leaver's orchestra. J. B. Kilmer of Janesville was a caller here Thursday.

A happy thought, Mrs. Austin's Pan-cakes for breakfast. Ready in a jiffy.

—FORTY YEARS AGO—

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, February 3, 1866.—Some Corn.—Messrs. Editors.—Seeing in your columns that several men in different parts of the country have been hunting up their large ears of corn, the thought struck me that my father raised about as large corn as anyone. I went to his crib and picked out two ears, one of which counted (1866) thirteen hundred and sixty-six, the other (1850) thirteen hundred and fifty. Now who beats Clinton, let him speak.

Yours with respect,
H. W. LAKE.

Clinton, Feb. 5, '66.

Prosperity of the Young Men's Association.—We are truly gratified to learn that the Young Men's Association of this city, is rapidly gaining in numbers, and consequently in prosperity. The young men who have hitherto composed the organization have clung to it through discouragements and adverse influences, and we rejoice not only for their sakes, but for the welfare of the young men of Janesville, that there is a gleam of light for their enterprises through the rifts in the clouds that have hung over them. Give them an encouraging word and a helping hand by joining the organization and patronizing their lectures; that they may be enabled to commence the work of gathering a library, and thus furnish some other resort than the billiard room and the saloon for the youth of this city.

A Fossil Man Twelve Feet High.—The Montana Post, Nov. 11th, records the discovery of some organic remains—proofs of extinct races of men and animals of monstrous proportions—on Meagher's Bar, opposite Nevada. They were imbedded eight feet deep, in a diluvial deposit from what was once the eddy of a river. The mammoth jawbone and tooth are exhibited at the office of the Post.

The jawbone (interior Maxillary) is that of a biped, and double the size of an ordinary jawbone, and is in perfect preservation—the enamel of the teeth still remaining, and the sixteen teeth all perfect. Ribs and other bones of proportional size were also found. Learned doctors estimate the height of the biped at from 10½ to 12 feet. The enormous molar teeth also found are evidences of an extinct race of bipeds, twice as large as any now known.

There is more skating on Central Park, New York, on Sunday, than any other day. The crowd there last Sabbath was estimated at 100,000, no less than 80,000 being skaters.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES

The local management is fortunate in securing F. C. Whitney's big company in the most popular musical comedy that has been in Chicago in a number of years, "The Pink Hussars," which recently finished its 20th performance at the Chicago Opera House and is now going on tour for the first time. It will be seen here in its entirety, just as it was produced during its famous evening, with Billy Beard as the star comedian. The assisting comedians have been carefully selected for their fun-making proclivities. The singing company is one of the most expensive parts of the pay-roll. No better evidence of the care that has been taken to secure singers for this minstrel company can be given than to submit the list of artists who sing with the run in Chicago. The company is headed by the well-known comedian, J. Clarence Harvey, and the original English pony ballet, the most famous troupe of dancing girls in the world, and the remainder of the original cast. "The Pink Hussars" will be presented at the Myers Grand Tuesday, February 13.

The Haverly Mastodon Minstrels will be seen at the Myers Grand Saturday, February 10, matinee and

Grace George's new play, "The Marriage of William Ashe," in which she is to be seen at the Myers Grand tonight, is made from Mrs. Humphrey Ward's strongest work of fiction. It is a story that bites very hard from the start, and though it is a constant jar upon the normal ethical values, it is a work of the very highest merit. The author took her theme from the love affairs of Lord Byron, a perfectly proper literary procedure. That such a remarkable triangular love and jealousy situation should have never been produced before now, is alone singular.

The play is a study in temperaments and principally a delineation of the possibilities of a character developed out of unconventional and unrecognized social conditions when given free swing in the stilted situation which existed in Great Britain at least a generation and probably fifty years ago, though the time is not clearly marked. Lady Kitty is a woman who might have been a success in Paris and reached the later position of grand dame. In London she was out of her element. She married a rather ponderous, though intelligent Briton, who was rising in politics. She was brought up in the French school and continued for years to make his life happy when he was in her immediate presence, but otherwise to work him ruin not only in politics but in society where Mrs. Grundy was ruling the roost.

There is something attractive about this young woman who made all possible ethical and social errors. One would have supposed that she might have been brought to book, but Ash determined when he married her against great opposition, to let her have her own way. The story tells of the extraordinary ways in which the woman, while pretending a love for her husband and feeling it to a certain extent, was led astray by her whims and by the wiles of others until she vanished with one who is said to be a portrait of Byron.

These things could but end in a tragedy, but it is in the later scenes where the husband, thoroughly conscious of the ill his wife has wrought upon him, as well as the eternal damage done to her own soul, finds her prying and surrenders ambition to the primal love he had for her that the finest art is shown. There have been loves in this world which have had terrible consequences to humanity and though Mrs. Ward attempts no Cleopatra theme, it is in a sense as important. She has sounded the heights and depths of the sexual passion, its peculiarities and its frequent contradictions of and opposition to social convention, in a way that has seldom been achieved. The story is one that is pessimistic to a large extent (but is one of the most complete studies that have been given in recent years of life as it is lived in the complex organization we call society). It is probable that the playgoer will fail to find in her or her experience any character exactly represented by Lady Kitty, the daring, unconventional and not thoroughly understandable creature; yet the student of psychology must admit that the picture is one that is entirely possible in detail, while many of its phases are to be constantly found.

JANESVILLE MARKET REPORT.

Quotations on Grain and Produce for The Gazette.

REPORTED BY F. H. GEE & SON, DEALERS IN WHEAT, GRAIN, FLOUR AND FEED.

Feb. 2nd, 1906.

Flour—1st Patent—$1.20 to $1.30; 2nd Pat out at $1.15 and $1.25 per sack.

Wheat—Chicago Cash, No. 1 and 2 North—$1.18 to $1.20.

Barley—Chicago—$1.00 to $1.10 per ton.

Oats—Chicago—$1.00 to $1.10 per ton.

Timothy—Chicago—$1.00 to $1.10 per ton.

Hay—Chicago—$1.00 to $1.10 per ton.

Standard—Middleweight—$20.00 per sack.

On Mill—$1.75 to $2.00 per sack.

On Mill—$1.75 to $2.00 per sack.

Straw—Per ton—$1.00 to $1.10.

Butter—Dairy—1c to 1.25.

Corn—Dairy—1c to 1.25.

Potatoes—$1.00 to $1.10.

Eggs—Strictly fresh, 20c.

Oysters—60¢ to 70¢.

Poultry—Live chickens, 8 to 9 cents; old fowls 7c.

Ducks, 8 to 10¢; 11 to 12¢.

Geese—9 to 10¢.

Veal Calves 10¢ to 12¢.

In the general markets, the grain list remains about the same as our last quotations, although prices are weakening on wheat, corn and oats during the last few days—bearish sentiment is increasing. In the local market the supply is equal to the demand for hay, straw, grain and provisions. While the general market for corn has a weak tone there is a good demand at present quotations. Eggs are becoming more plentiful and prices a little lower.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

SEIZE YOUR OPPORTUNITIES OUR LOSS IS YOUR GAIN

The Hazel Green Mining Company withdrew the balance of their treasury stock from the market some time ago. The mine was producing quantities of ore. Nearly all the debts of the company were paid. Over $90,000.00 had been received for ore sold in January. Substantial dividends would soon be paid. The mine was fast becoming the biggest and richest Zinc and Lead mine in the district.

BUT

On the night of January 31st the magnificent $30,000.00 power house burned to the ground. Our loss is your gain, for we must again offer the balance of the treasury stock for sale, that we may rebuild our power house without delay.

The Hazel Green Mining Company is capitalized for $125,000.00, has $60,000.00 invested in machinery and buildings, owns the first lease on 200 acres of ground near Hazel Green, Wis., and its mine is worth at least $250,000.00. We offer the balance of the treasury stock, in blocks of 100 shares, or over, at par, $1.00 per share.

DO NOT DELAY

Make your draft payable to the Hazel Green Mining Company, and send it together with your order for stock to

"To set up one's sail to every wind" is the task of the successful store-advertiser—to conform to times, seasons, weather, fads, crazes—and to know that enterprise is of all times and seasons.

Say, do you suppose the coal and ice men are in cahoots?

The weather man fixes the weather but the coal man fixes the prices.

The Jackson club is one of the liveliest of Janesville's institutions.

Some clocks run better after they are wound up than others. What, didn't it hit you?

Some man who really wants to stand out before the people as the one and only candidate worthy of consideration could make his hit as an advocate of better sidewalks.

The spring election is near at hand. The candidates are springing up like flowers after a spring shower. They are more numerous than the jobs they are after, permit. Is it the fever, or what is it they want?

Oh, the shades of Andrew Jackson, to think his name could be used for such a purpose as it is! The brave old man who held the English off New Orleans would turn in his grave could he but know of the ignoble use his appendage has sunk to.

The tobacco growers and buyers are aware that the Philippine bill will do for the Wisconsin industry if it passes the senate. They should also remember that Mr. Cooper, the present congressman from this district, voted for its passage through the house.

PROFESSOR FRANKENBURGER.

The death of Professor David B. Frankenburg of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin is a loss to the university, to the state, and to the country. There is perhaps no man in the university faculty who was so thoroughly beloved by his pupils and the student body as a whole as Professor Frankenburg. His sad death leaves a vacancy in the lists of the university traditions that will be hard to fill.

JUST A PLAIN LIE.

Anyhow, dear Janesville Gazette, Beloit did not have five midnight funerals as the result of her late smallpox epidemic.—Beloit Daily News.

The above extract from the so-called editorial column of the Beloit Daily News speaks for itself. It is branded as a plain lie. What object the editor of the Beloit evening paper can have in deliberately going out of his way to lie about the matter of life and death is not known. It is on a par with other of his murmurings which from time to time have appeared. Health Officer McCarthy of this city is authority for the statement that during the recent epidemic of varioloid in Janesville not one death occurred and not a death has occurred where it has been credited to varioloid. He even goes further to make the statement that to his knowledge, and he should know, no midnight funerals have been held in Janesville since he took his office. The Beloit Daily News usually clips its editorial from the Milwaukee Journal, the sincerest kind of flattery, and it would perhaps be well to suggest that they continue this practice as their own composition is liable to lead them into serious trouble some day. A newspaper can not be edited with a pitchfork and book of lies, but it may be by careful use of a pair of shears. Follow the shears practice and see if results are not better.

ROWDY STUDENTS.

Certain hot-headed youths who are in attendance at the University of Wisconsin have threatened to burn in effigy Professor Turner, a member of the faculty, because he opposes their ideas as to football. It is a sad sight to see a body of students of any institution so carried away with their own ideas that they will be carried away to such extremes. Prof. Turner opposes football, as it is played today, for good sound reasons. If no other argument was used the mere fact that the student body are so carried away by the ideas that they want to act in such a disgraceful manner is sufficient to bar the game from the institution. Professor Turner is not a man of hasty action. He is cool and deliberate and his judgment in this matter is grounded upon facts that can not be disputed. Athletics at Wisconsin have been rotten for years past. It is not so long ago that a petition was passed around to raise funds to pay a certain player of prominence for taking part in the game, who was at that time holding a state job, passed by a now federal office holder and signed liberally by the merchants of the city. This is but one case of many that have existed and will exist at the university until the athletic affairs there are thoroughly purged. Professor Turner has taken a straightforward, manly course. As a graduate of the university and a member of its faculty, he has the best interest at heart. His stand in this matter should be backed by the faculty from President Van Hise down. The rowdy students who propose to disgrace the institution should be spanked and put to bed.

COWARDICE.

The trade of the blackmailer thrives on the cowardice of men, says the Wall Street Journal. The political blackmailer uses his power in the legislature or in the municipal council in order to force corporations to pay either for benefits which it is right that they should enjoy, or to prevent legislation which they regard as unfavorable. The corporation need not pay. In fact, if it did not pay, but adopted the policy of making a plain, open statement of what it wanted it could obtain any reasonable and fair benefit by a simple appeal to public opinion. But as a matter of fact it is in many cases too cowardly. Either the ends it seeks are unjust and it knows it, and it therefore is willing to pay the price of a wrongful privilege, or else having an honest end in view it is too timid to take an honest way to achieve it. A fair and courageous policy on the part of our business corporations would bring to an end the career of the political blackmailers, and the corrupt lobby would be a thing of the past.

Cowardice is likewise the opportunity of the newspaper of society scandal. A short and easy way to make money is to publish a paper so disreputable that honest men and women dread having their names appearing in it. Then it will be possible to find a large number of well-to-do people who are willing to pay, and pay liberally, for escape from its contamination. A little courage on the part of people of social prominence would soon bring this class of newspapers to an ignominious end.

Cowardice is likewise the opportunity of the disreputable financial paper. It lives upon the timidity of moneyed interests. Even a paper of very limited circulation, or no circulation at all, and having no valid ground for existence whatever, may be able to thrive because banks and bankers, corporations and capitalists having interests to promote and trust money to defend are willing to give it the bribe of an advertisement or of a direct payment of money rather than that it should be put into cold type and unfavorable statement or criticism.

A little courage on the part of these financial interests would make it impossible for these pests of business to live. Is it not about time for these interests to test the policy of courage? It is possible that they might have an uncomfortable quarter of an hour or so, but in the end they will have occasion for rejoicing.

RAILWAY REBATES, AND RATES.

There seems to be a general misunderstanding as to the policy of President Roosevelt relative to railroad control. Column after column of newspapers, both great and small, have been hacking at the question for months past. Much of the matter printed bears evidence of coming from the same source, and it appears as intended to bewilder the average reader as to the railroad rate proposition. The Roosevelt plan is for the railroads to fix rates as at present, but where there is occasion the government can exercise the power to change such rates as are found inequitable so as to be just to the railroads and to the people. It appears from all the addresses and articles credited to Roosevelt, that complete governmental control of railroad rate-making has never been his theme.

In a recent article by Henry Olney on the subject of governmental control of railroads, he refers to the great importance of the rate-making power. He says that railroad rates affect all classes of the community; they determine largely the outcome of all private enterprises, and too often on this power hangs the destiny of cities and towns, the making or the tearing down of sea-ports, and the development of great sections of country.

It is the knowledge of this power that causes the masses to favor governmental ownership of railroads; and that at present stirs up the clamor for government rate-making. It appears that the railroad magnates are divided in regard to the question. It is doubtful whether there are any railroad owners who are desirous to turn over to the government the control of their lines. Still there are causes which make many of them feel that the plan of Roosevelt is substantial and one that if placed in operation will obliterate many evils that have grown up. Among the men who are blunt and plain-spoken on the rate question is President Stickney of the Chicago Great Western. He admits that government regulation as proposed by Roosevelt will be a good thing for the railroads. He points to the discrimination in rates as an evil thrust upon railroad managers. He points at the rebate system as an example of how the railroads have made the victims, and compelled to sacrifice business by large companies which have enormous transportation business. It is plain that the average railroad man is anxious to be relieved of the burdens imposed on the roads such as have been discovered by the recent investigations into the private car lines, etc. It appears a peculiar state of affairs when a great producing company can dictate to a great railroad the price it shall receive for its service.

EMERSON ON "GOOD SENSE."

"The benefit we receive must be rendered again, line for line, deed for deed, cent for cent, to somebody. Labor is watched over by this pitiless law. What we buy in a broom, a mat, a wagon, a knife, is some application of good sense to a common want. It is best to buy good sense in your gardener, good sense in your sailor; in the house, good sense applied to cooking, sewing, serving; in your agent, good sense applied to affairs. The absolute balance of give and take, that doctrine that everything has its price, is no less sublime in the columns of a ledger than in the laws of light and darkness."

The Concord Philosopher thus codifies some of the unchanging laws of business—good pay for good service from employees; a fair price for every fair commodity—and the folly of buying less than the best in either services or merchandise. The doctrine of give and take covers, of its own force, the buying of advertising—the chief "secret" connected with publicity. Advertising, which is advertising, commands its fair price—it cannot be secured by chance or stealth of luck—but a dollar's worth is always to be had for a dollar.

And as in brooms, it is best to "buy good sense" in publicity—and space in a good newspaper (as above and better than devices or schemes) is merely "good sense applied to publicity."

SIX MINISTERS REFUSE TO SPEAK AT FUNERAL

Rev. John Whiting of Kewanee Finally Agrees to Accept the Unpleasant Task.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 9.—The warring factions of the First Baptist church, divided by the suicide of its pastor, the Rev. George H. Simmons, have in a measure been united. The committee of deacons of the church who had in charge the completion of the arrangements, encountered no small amount of difficulty in securing a minister to officiate.

Refusals were received from six Illinois clergymen, among them being the Rev. J. V. Archison of Galesburg. Late Thursday afternoon a telegram of acceptance was received from the Rev. John Whiting of Kewanee, who will deliver an informal talk on the life of charity of the late pastor-fundier of Peoria.

Developments indicated that Dr. Simmons had been at times a heavy plunger on the stock market. His ambition to become a leader in the financial world, as he was in the church realm, caused him to make many investments, successful at first, but disastrous at the end.

Two brothers of the deceased, living near Louisville, Ky., have refused to answer telegrams sent to them.

THAT WAS MESSAGE BUSINESS

MEN SENT BAZZETT.

THRO' ATTY. E. J. PHILLIPS

Who Represented Him Here at Meeting Held to Take Up Clock

Report Last Night.

Having learned in Chicago on Tuesday that the committee sent to investigate that precious clock factory at Princeton, Ind., was on its way back to Janesville with a very unfavorable report, E. A. Bazzett, who had presented himself as sole owner of the same, evidently decided upon mature reflection yesterday that the proposed conference with business men in this city last night would be something other than a love-feast. At any rate he went back on his promise, made over the telephone, during the forenoon, and sent his representative, Attorney E. J. Phillips—the uncommunitive listener at the mass-meeting—to bear the brunt of the ordeal. Mr.

Phillips did not appear to relish his mission. When he was approached in the hotel lobby by a representative of the thirty or more outraged business men who were waiting for him in the Hayes Bros. office, he manifested no extreme eagerness to go thither and set the misguided ones aright. In fact it required a little persuation to induce him to appear there at all.

Had Faith in His Client.

After the usual greetings and formalities, which were rather brief, the committee reported the results of its investigations as set forth in yesterday's Gazette. Mr. Phillips was called upon to explain the discrepancies between this report and the representations of Mr. Bazzett. He was unable to do so, except by conjecture. He hazarded an opinion that in taking inventory it might have been to the interest of the parties concerned to have values rated on an extremely low scale by reason of the approaching spring sale. He did not believe that the inventory shown Messrs. Sutherland and Hayes was worthy of confidence as a schedule of real values.

All he knew about the affairs of the plant was what Mr. Bazzett had told him and he had always had the most implicit confidence in his client. Dennis Hayes questioned the soundness of such conjectures and both he and Mr. Sutherland gave minute descriptions of some of the more important machinery and T. O. Howe and others agreed with them that lathes such as they described were worth a few hundred dollars, and not thousands of dollars.

Peter Hohenadel Heard.

When the discussion had reached this stage, Peter Hohenadel, who subscribed for $1,000 worth of stock in the new venture appeared on the scene and took a conservative stand. It seemed to him also that the inventory might have been trustworthy. He had seen running factory machinery that was inventoried for three or four thousand dollars sold for $15,000 or $20,000 under the hammer. During the course of his talk Mr. Phillips asked a question which conveyed the impression that Mr. Hohenadel had been in-some way concerned with an effort which is now under way to establish this clock factory at Rochelle, Ill. Mr.

Hohenadel stoutly denied the imputation, though he admitted that he had been a spectator of what was going on and, happening to be in Chicago on the same day that the Janesville committee reached there he had learned something of their findings and had made it his business to look up Mr.
Murray and find out what he had to say about it. Murray had told him that the plant was worth $27,000. Mr.
Hayes agreed with Mr. Hohenadel that Murray's reputation in Princeton was very good. It developed that a committee from Rochelle went to Princeton yesterday to investigate the plant and buy it if they should see fit.

Explanations Unsatisfactory.

Mr. Phillips admitted that Mr. Bazzett did not now have clear title to the plant, as he had represented, but explained that the mortgage he held from the Tulsa Clock Co. of Indian Territory practically amounted to that.

M. G. Jeffris said that when the committee's findings had been ascertained that there had been two opinions—one that Bazzett could explain, and the other that he couldn't. Those who had held the former view had hoped that he would be present and vindicate himself. Mr. Phillips could offer no explanation of his failure to put in his appearance, other than that he had told him that it was impossible for him to come. Mr. Jeffris, continuing, said that if the deal was to have been of the complexion suspected he, for one, would be willing to pay something to learn just what the game was. He was reminded of the story of the Janesville man with a reputation, himself, of being pretty sharp, who was accosted by a confidence man in Chicago and at the conclusion of a short interview offered the fellow $5 to tell him why he, in particular, out of the hundreds of passersby, has been selected as a victim. The latter replied that he had been so sized up because he wore rubbers. In behalf of himself and associates Mr. Jeffris, with a general smile, asked Mr. Phillips to convey the compliments of the Janesville business men to Mr. Bazzett together with the assurance that they are not wearing gum-shoes this season. The meeting then broke up.

ICE MEN NEED MORE COLD

WEATHER; PROSPECTS GOOD

If Present Conditions Remain Cutting

Can Probably Be Started

Monday.

Though more intense cold would be welcomed by the icemen, the ice on the upper portion of the river is gradually thickening. If the present conditions remain it is expected that the seven or eight inches will have grown to a foot, which is sufficiently heavy.

However, a day or two of zero temperature would about delight the heart of the "cool" merchant as much as anything.

Truly wonderfully—a little want ad.

GRACE GEORGE WILL

PLAY THIS EVENING

Rumors to the Contrary the Talented

Actress is in the City

Today.

In response to the senseless rumor circulated this afternoon that Miss George would not appear in tonight's production of "The Marriage of William Ashie," her manager, A. F. Ward, said this afternoon: "You may say that without Miss George there is no production of the play. Miss George will play her part as Lady Kiltie tonight. She has no understudy and if she is unable to play we always have to cancel the engagement." Mr. Ward has been in Janesville before as the manager of his father, Frederick Ward, who is now lecturing, having retired from the stage for the time being. Miss George arrived from Rockford by interurban this afternoon.

The play has had a wonderful success all over the country and is said to be the finest vehicle Miss George has ever appeared in. A large house will greet her this evening.

CHEMISTS' TRUST

SEEKS THE CITY

A TELEGRAPHIC REPORT FROM

NEW YORK TO THIS EFFECT

DENIED BY LOCAL STORES

King's Pharmacy, W. T. Sherer's and

H. E. Ranous' Stores Were

Mentioned as Sold.

Telegraphic reports from New York

say that the new ten-million-dollar United Chemist trust is to enter Janesville. The report says that three Janesville druggists have been given an opportunity to sell their stores to the trust and thus make Janesville the scene of a contest between the big and little druggists of the country. The three stores mentioned in the report are the W. T. Sherer,
King's Pharmacy and H. E. Ranous &
Co.

Is Denied.

When shown the dispatch, which follows, all three gentlemen mentioned emphatically that any such deal had never been mentioned to them.

Mr. George E. King of King's Pharmacy said: "It is simply preposterous.
I never heard of such a corporation
as the United Chemists Company. No one has ever mentioned such a thing to me. The idea is something that is so new that I do not want to consider it. I can not see where the story originated. Certainly no option on the King's Pharmacy has been obtained."

Mr. Sherer.

When he had read the dispatch, Mr.

W. T. Sherer said: "This is the first I have heard of it. My store is not for sale and I can not see where the idea originated that it was. I never heard of the so-called United Chemists Company. H. E. Ranous pleaded equal ignorance to the charge he was to sell to the trust. He said: "I know nothing of the affair at all. This is the first I knew such a plan was ever projected. It is entirely new to me. No; my store is not for sale, except at my own price."

The Dispatch.

The following is the dispatch received: New York, N. Y., Feb. 9.—W. T.

Sherer, King's Pharmacy and H. E.

Ranous & Co. are the retail drug stores in Janesville reported as selected for negotiating the options to buy and consolidate by representatives of the newly formed ten-million-dollar United Chemists company, just organized to buy and consolidate retail drug stores, and control the trade in desirable cities of the middle west by George J. Wheeler, who successfully organized the United Cigar Stores company for the tobacco trust, and by which methods he hopes to control the drug trade. He will apply it more extensively to drugs. The drug trust, was incorporated about a fortnight ago and already has secured footholds in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and bought the big Wilson chain of stores. The combine is backed by the tobacco and grocers trusts and the leading patent medicines and manufacturing chemists.

JAPANESE PLAY IS VEHICLE OF IDUNAS

Milton College Organization Presents Pretty Drama of Flowery Kingdom.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milton, Feb. 9.—The Japanese play, "Princess Kiku," given by the Idunas Tuesday evening, conformed to the usual high standard of Iduna plays. The costumes and staging were pretty and effective and the work of the leading characters was of a high order. Miss Rittenhouse, in the role of the "ancient" English lady, deserves special mention, as does also Miss Stillman as the wise woman Sakara, who plots against the happiness of the princess. Music was furnished by the college orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ellen Crandall. A handsome sum was added to the Iduna's treasury as a result of their efforts.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Introduces the hero, Robert Warburton, a well-to-do West Point graduate on duty in Arizona. After being wounded by an Indian, resigns his commission in the army and leaves for Europe. Four.

CHAPTER II.—Introduces the heroine, Miss Betty Annesley, daughter of a retired army officer living near Washington. A beautiful, representative young American girl, whom Warburton has seen in Paris, is written, and follows to New York. Seeks introduction on board steamer but fails.

CHAPTER III.—Warburton, reaching New York, Warburton locates hotel in which the Annesleys are guests and thence thence in order to see Miss Annesley once more. Chastened to see young Russian count whom he met on steamer, being Miss Annesley in to dinner. Next morning the Count and the Annesleys had disappeared.

CHAPTER IV.—Warburton goes to Washington to visit his relatives—a married brother, who holds a government position, and a sister engaged to an old school chum of his. Invited to accompany family to ball at British embassy, but declines. Conceals a scheme to play a joke on his sister and sister-in-law.

CHAPTER V.—Warburton meets his sister's fiance whom he had not seen for eight years. Sees the folks off for the embassy ball and then proceeds to put his joke into execution, which is to disguise himself as a coachman and drive his sister and sister-in-law, who must return alone from the embassy to their home.

CHAPTER VI.—Warburton in his disguise goes to British embassy and takes the place of his brother's coachman, whom he has bribed. He mistakes his carriage for the one which is to take the wrong passengers without knowing it. Drives frantically about the streets pursued by mounted policemen. When carriage comes to a stop he springs down and throws his arms about the first of his passengers to alight, who proves to be Miss Annesley instead of his sister.

CHAPTER VII.—Warburton is arrested on a charge of drunkenness and abduction preferred by Miss Annesley and locked up over night. In police cage, where he has given the name of James Osborne, receives note from Miss Annesley ordering him to pay the fine and to be released. He decides to accept, in spite of protests of his friend, whom he leaves to explain his disappearance to his relatives. By paying the fine he goes north suddenly on a handcar trip.

CHAPTER VIII.—"Chuck" takes suit of clothes and money and goes to the city fully only to find that fine had been paid. Warburton, in name of James Osborne, receives note from Miss Annesley ordering him to pay the fine and to be released. He decides to accept, in spite of protests of his friend, whom he leaves to explain his disappearance to his relatives. By paying the fine he goes north suddenly on a handcar trip.

CHAPTER IX.—Miss Annesley, after closely questioning Warburton (known to her as James Osborne) at her home, learns him of his probable whereabouts. Shows about the stables expressed a desire to ride an exceptionally vicious thoroughbred called "Black Eye." After her permission she saddles and mounts the horse which immediately bolts.

CHAPTER X.—After a fierce struggle Warburton succeeds in mastering the horse in the presence of Miss Annesley but receives no word of praise. Interview between Col. Annesley and Warburton, in which he tells her that he has invited the young Russian Count Karloff to dine with them on the morrow.

CHAPTER XI.

THE FIRST RIDE.

The next morning Warburton was shown into a neat six-by-eight, just off the carriage-room. There was a cot, running water and a washstand, and a boot-blackening apparatus. For the rest, there were a few portraits of fast horses, fighters and "do-dancers" (the adjective qualifying all three), which the proprietor's sporting groom had collected and tacked to the walls. For appearance's sake, Mr. James had purchased a cheap trunk. Everything inside was new, too. His silver military brushes, his silver shaving set, and so forth and so forth, were in charge of a safe-deposit storage company, alongside some one's family jewels. The only incriminating thing he retained were his signet-ring and his Swiss timepiece.

"Have you had your breakfast, sir?" asked William, the stable-boy.

"Yes, my lord. Now, as Miss Annesley has forgotten it, perhaps you will tell me of just what my duties here will consist."

"You harness, ride and drive, sir, and take care of the metals. I clean the leathers and carriages, exercise the horses and keep their hides shiny. If anything is purchased, sir, we shall have to depend upon your judgment. Are you given to cursing?"

"Cursing?" repeated Warburton.

"Yes, sir. Miss Annesley won't stand for it around the stables. The man before you, sir, could curse most beautifully, and I think that's why he was fired. At least, it was one reason."

Warburton smoothed his twitching mouth. "Don't you worry, William; it's against my religion to use profane language."

William winked, there was an answering wink, and the two became friends from that moment on.

"I'll bet you didn't say a thing to Karloff, yesterday, when he bolted over the wall with you?"

"Well, I believe I did address a few remarks to Karloff which would not sound well on dress-parade; but so long as it wasn't within hearing distance, William, I suppose it doesn't matter."

"No, sir; I suppose not."

"Now, what kind of a master is the colonel?" asked Warburton strapping on his English leggings.

"Well, it's hard to say just now. You see, I've been with the family ever since I was six. The colonel used to be the best fellow I ever knew. Always looking out for your comfort, never an undeserved harsh word, and always a smile when you pleased him. But he's changed in the last two years."

"How?"

"He doesn't take any interest in the things he used to. He goes about as if he had something on his mind; kind of absent-minded, you know; and forgets to-morrow what he says to-day. He always puts on a good face, though, when Miss Betty is around."

not object to your riding at my side, but when I have guests, always remember to keep five yards to the rear."

"Yes, Miss. If he could have got rid of the idea of Karloff and the possibilities which his name suggested, all this would have appeared to him as exceedingly funny."

"Forward, then!"—and she touched Jane's flank with her crop.

The weather was perfect for riding; no sun, a keen breeze from the north-west, and a dust-settled road. Warburton confessed to me afterward that this first ride with her was one of the most splendid he had ever ridden. Both animals were perfect saddle-horses, such as are to be found only in the south. They started up the road at a brisk trot, and later broke into a canter which lasted fully a mile. How beautiful she was, when at length they slowed down into a walk. Her cheeks were flaming, her eyes dancing and full of lustre, her hair was tumbled about and tendrils fluttered down her cheeks. She was Diana; only he hoped that she was not destined to celibacy.

"Have you ever ridden with women before, James?"

"Several times with my major's daughter," thoughtlessly.

"Your major's daughter? Who was your regimental colonel?"

James bit his lips, and under his breath disregarded William's warning about "cussing." "Permit me, Miss Annesley, to decline to answer."

"Did you ride as an attendant?"

"Yes; I was a trooper."

"You speak very good English for a stableman."

"I have not always been a stableman."

"I dare say. I should give a good deal to know what you have been."

Change of LIFE

This perfectly natural change in a woman's life is too often accompanied by painful, distressing symptoms due to female troubles and slight irregularities in her delicate organism.

The woman who passes this change without the development of tumors, cancers, or chronic invalidism enters a new field of happiness and usefulness in the domestic circle and in social activity. Her physical system should receive the necessary assistance at this critical period.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is exactly suited to woman's needs at this time. It strengthens and cures all derangements of the female organism, it overcomes the hot flashes and dizzy fainting spells, and all other distressing symptoms.

I Was in Bed for Three Weeks

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered a great deal during Change of Life. For eleven weeks I had hemorrhages and it made me so weak I was in bed for three weeks. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, although it was against my doctor's will and I had to hide it. I took it regularly until I had taken five bottles, and it brought me out all right, a perfectly strong, well woman. Any one can tell how healthy I am by looking at my picture, and any one can write to me or my daughter about our wonderful cures.

Mrs. F. M. MUSHASH, East Chicago, Ind.

The whole secret of safety at this time of life is thorough preparation before the change begins. Fortify the system with a course of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This wonderful medicine has carried thousands of women through this danger period.

No such helpful advice to women who are sick can be had anywhere as will be received free by addressing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for twenty-five years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Where Others Fail

Would "Hear" Government Land? Omaha, Neb., Feb. 9.—State Senator Reynolds and C. H. Cornell, chairman of the Nebraska Land Committee, will present to President Roosevelt a petition from the small cattlemen of Nebraska asking him to co-operate with them in their efforts to secure a law for the leasing of government land for grazing purposes.

Big Ship is Launched. Bremerhaven, Feb. 9.—At Rickmer's shipyard Thursday there was launched the biggest sailing ship in the world. The length of the craft is 428 feet; her breadth is 54 feet and she is of 8,000 tons burden.

David B. Hill Very Sick. New York, Feb. 9.—Advises received here state that former United States Senator David B. Hill is seriously ill in South Carolina, where he went several days ago to benefit his health.

BAD WEATHER COMING--PREPARE

It is predicted that February will be a disagreeable month, with blizzards and cold waves sandwiching warm spells. This is just the kind of weather that carries off the weak and sickly, and wears down the robust. The safe thing to do is to fortify the system against the effects of coming exposure, dampness and cold. No better precaution against the rigors of winter can be had than Father John's Medicine, because it keeps up the bodily warmth, curing coughs and colds and building the body strong. It not only cures disease, but it supplies the strength and fighting power to resist disease.

No Morphine or poisonous drugs.

Father John's Medicine cures Colds or money back.
